

WHEN LOVE IS NURTURED, IT

Welcome to Our Love Nurtured Flourishes Family!

We're thrilled you're joining us. Our membership is all about connecting, growing, and learning together. Here's what you need to know about being part of our special community:

1. Joining the Community

By signing up, you agree to these friendly terms. They're here to ensure everyone enjoys their time and gets the most out of our community.

2. Who Can Join

Everyone eager to improve their relationship skills is welcome! Just come ready to participate with positive energy. The only requirement is that you've read The Empowered Wife by Laura Doyle, or you've completed Nurturing Love's Empowered Wife Workshop, or are signed up for it.

3. What You Get

- Access to group coaching calls: You'll enjoy access to multiple calls each month, where you can connect, learn, and gain insights in a supportive space.
- Access to a private community: Connect with fellow members, share experiences, and support each other on this journey.

4. Our Value of Respect

We're all here to learn and support each other. So, let's keep it respectful, positive, and constructive. We reserve the right to wave goodbye to anyone who doesn't uphold this value.

5. Mailing List

Joining Love Nurtured Flourishes also adds you to our email list for updates and exclusive content to enhance your journey. You can adjust your preferences or unsubscribe anytime. We value your privacy and promise only meaningful communication.

7. Privacy Promise

Your secrets are safe with us, and we expect all members to honour this same commitment to privacy and respect. To uphold safety, we kindly request that attendees participate in a private, quiet space where there are no little (or big) ears listening in.

Anything shared by members during group coaching calls, or within our private community, is confidential. What is said in these spaces stays in these spaces. We're all here to support each other in a safe and secure environment, so please treat what you hear with the same confidentiality and respect you'd want for your own shares.

Note: Calls will be recorded for training purposes and restricted access will be given to members of Nurturing Love Ltd group coaching for a limited time. These recordings will be undownloadable. By signing up for this group program, you agree that only paying members have the right to view these recordings, as does Nurturing Love Ltd for training or personal development purposes. You also agree to maintain the trust and confidentiality of the group by not sharing the recordings, or any information from the sessions, with anyone outside the group.

7. Access to Collaborating Coaches' Calls

As part of your membership, you may enjoy even more opportunities for connection and growth through access to additional group coaching calls hosted by other certified Laura Doyle coaches who collaborate with us. These recordings and call links will be shared with all paying members of the collaborating coaches' communities, as well as with our own, and in turn, Nurturing Love Ltd group recordings will also be shared with the paying members of our collaborating coaches' communities. This means you benefit from an expanded library of wisdom and connection across multiple groups of like-minded women.

Please note: While we are delighted to offer this added value, these particular calls are organised and managed directly by our collaborating coaches. Nurturing Love Ltd does not control the hosting of these calls and cannot be responsible for the availability or technical aspects of those links. That said, we trust these collaborating coaches to operate with similar guidelines and care, and we are committed to doing our best to support you in having a smooth and positive experience.

8. Change is Good

We might occasionally tweak your membership perks or these terms to make things better. We'll always let you know via email when we do.

9. Membership Cancellation

Your membership renews automatically each month, offering exceptional value at an affordable rate. If you wish to pause or cancel your membership, you can easily do so through the Nurturing Love website.

10. Your Transformation

We're here to provide guidance and support, but we can't promise specific outcomes. By joining, you agree not to hold us responsible for the relationship transformations (or lack thereof) that happen.

11. Talk to Us

Have questions, concerns, or just want to share some love? Reach out! We're here for you.

Thanks for reading!

By joining our community, you're taking a beautiful step toward enriching your relationships.

We can't wait to be part of your journey.
